CREIGHTON STARTS IN FEW DAYS Locals Will Open Season with Highland Park In Omsha. Within a week the Creighton foot ball team will line up on the Vinton Street grounds against the Highland Park players for their first game of the season. The open date of October 17 will probably be given to Grinnell college of Iowa, which will fill up the schedule to the close of the season on Thanksgiving day. St. Thomas college of St. Paul is willing to come to Omaha, but Manager Jack Mullen favors playing the neighboring Iowans, as they will furnish more local interest than gameswith the Saints.

Now that the list of games is practically completed, the optimistic sidelino critics are anxiously waiting to hear the referee's whistle next Saturday afternoon at the Vinton street gridleon.

Highland Park is out for the champion ship and will certainly exert itself to the utmost to get a flying start for the banner. Little news has been received from the Iowa camp to furnish any possible dope on the visitors-to-be. If they approach anywhere near their old form, and it is not doubtful that they will, the Creightons will have to play some mighty fast ball to win the initial match on their foot ball time table. The unknown quantity of the opposition lends a spicy uncertainty that should make the scheduled affair an interesting one, as neither the players nor the coaches know what to expect or how to meet their unfamiliar style of play.

The over zealousness, if any existed, must have been toned down considerable at the news of Brennan's injury to his shoulder girdle in the scrimmage during the early part of the week. The Irishman's absence from the firing line will be keenly felt and this weakened post with the center position still to be filled by a suitable candidate, keep the coaches constantly on the jump Several men bave been tried out for these positions, the only one showing any ear marks of a possibility is Frank Morrison, who has been playing good all around ball in practice and will certainly give the son of Erin a hard tussel for the place on the right side of the line. Right on the heels of Brennan's injury comes the report that Bakule's pedal extremity is in a bad way and consequently his kicking has fallen far below par, more so as there is probably no successor to take the kicking fullback's position. The two strong and steady men with Galligan, who is still troubled by his injured clavicle, absent from the probable lineup of Saturday's fray, the Creighton foot ball stock has decreased several points. The center position, which has been caus ing an unusual amount of worry, is still wound up the most satisfactory season an open fight and the various departments ever played here. It is said that the Boston American league team, through its western agent, has made chase a good offer to join that club.
